

Paul & Jean Harris Home Foundation negotiates option to buy Comely Bank as a Centennial gift to future Rotarians

(L to R) Rich Ingalls, James Alden, Ken Butler, Shirley Butler, and Ernie Mainland. Homeowners Ken and Shirley Butler helped Paul and Jean Harris Home Foundation Trustees examine the kitchen and other areas that were modified after the blueprints in Jim Alden's hands.

Rotarians around the globe are working together to save the home of Paul Harris

We gratefully thank Rotarians donating professional services — architects, structural engineers, real estate brokers, attorneys, historic preservation experts, and those Rotarians who have experience with the public exhibition and utilization of historic properties. Our fellowship appreciates the advice and encouragement provided by these Rotarians.

Please give generously. The personal donation form (below) indicates funding deadlines. Within 30 days you should receive a letter of appreciation suitable for your tax records.

We need to average $1000 from each recipient of this newsletter. It is impossible to achieve 100%, so please arrange for both your club and District to be Harris Home Sponsors at a level exceeding a combined total of $1000 with payment by 1 July.

The Rotary Heritage & History International Fellowship of Rotarians is proud to announce an exclusive opportunity for individuals to add their name to distinctive plaques in the former home of Rotary Founder Paul Harris. Due to limited space and a limited financial need, payment is requested by 1 May. If the Paul and Jean Harris Home Foundation's million dollar capital campaign is not fully subscribed on that date, Rotary International's 2004 Convention participants in Osaka will be invited to make donations at the RHHIF booth in the Osaka House of Friendship. If the campaign is not fully subscribed by the convention's end, donations will be welcomed until 1 July 2004.

To make this unique opportunity available to as many people as possible we offer a wide range of recognition levels. Your donation category will be displayed in the Rotary founder's home in perpetuity. Please give generously, and promptly!
