

Paul Harris was educated in this Wallingford Vermont school house that had been built in 1818 by his great-grandfather James Rustin. Paul delivered the Charter Address when the Rotary Club of Wallingford was established in 1928 during a meeting held in the True Temper Building. He returned to Wallingford in 1933 when the little red brick school house was acquired by Rotarians and dedicated as the “Paul P. Harris Memorial Building.” The Rotary Club now meets here at 7 am each Monday. (Photo by James Alden)

Rotary Heritage and History Fellowship

Rotary's history fellowship was approved by Rotary International in 1988. This fellowship operates in accordance with Rotary International policy, but it is not an agency of, or controlled by, Rotary International. The object of this fellowship is to advocate and coordinate the collection and preservation of information and memorabilia related to the heritage and history of the service club movement; to keep alive the mutual friendships created by Harris, Schiele, Shorey and Loehr who first met in Room 711 of the Unity Building in Chicago 23 February 1905; and to exchange information among club and district historians.
